

Move “The Free Line”

As technology becomes more powerful, it becomes easier and cheaper to create and offer training, education, software, videos, webinars, downloads and other value at almost zero financial cost to you. By creating a “Free Line Product” that you give away, you can attract a high volume of Prospective Customers to your business. Create something that has a legitimate $100 value or more, then GIVE IT AWAY in exchange for opting in to your list.

What could you create and give away that would cause Prospective Customers to flock to you to get it?

How could you format an educational training or video in a way that would make it worth at least $100 to your Prospect?