

Session 11: Stair Step Marketing

Key Points...

1. Stair-Step Marketing, or "don't ask her to marry you on the first date."
 - You don't ask a woman or man to marry you on the first date.
 - Don't ask someone to buy from you in the headline of your ad.
 - Instead, offer value, information, and solutions.
2. Your customers are people, and they want a trusted long-term relationship.
 - Too many companies create marketing that feels impersonal, sterile and distant.
 - People are built to interact with people, not with "corporate entities."
 - Create a Marketing Experience that feels like building a relationship with a new friend.
3. Small action steps lead to big results over the long-term.
 - As you build your Stair Step Marketing System, you'll find that many people taking small steps adds up to big results long-term.
 - The objective is to optimize the system, not to "get at the golden eggs" by killing the goose.
4. Build it and optimize it for one customer, then attract many.
 - Build your Stair Step Marketing system for ONE person (your Customer Avatar).
 - After you've designed a personalized, relationship-oriented experience, then "open up your funnel" to scale up your Lead Generation.
5. A Basic Framework For Your Stair-Step Marketing System:
 - Lead, Subscriber, Customer, Up-sell, and Back End.
6. Get Leads:
 - Run "interruption marketing" ads.
 - Advertise on search engines.
 - Create valuable content, videos, and articles that lead back to your website.
 - Partner with others who have lists.
 - KEY: Always promise Results, Benefits, and Relief.
7. Capturing a subscriber:
 - "Sweeten the pot" as soon as someone comes to your website - to encourage them to opt-in to your email list.
 - Offer free videos, PDF reports, a free analysis, etc., in return for opting in.
 - Immediately begin by sending value to communicate that you're "the good guys."
8. Converting to a customer:
 - Continue to send valuable tips, education and content that builds credibility, trust and motivation on the part of your Prospect.
 - Include occasional "special offers" to get additional value, bonuses, and promotions.
 - Invite & interact with Prospects to take advantage of "User Generated Content."
9. Up-selling at point of purchase.

- The highest probability of getting someone to buy something from you is when they're already buying something from you - during the purchase.
- Make your "upsell" relevant and valuable to the original purchase - so it "makes sense."
- Example: offer an advanced version of what they're already buying.

10. The back-end of your business:

- Follow up FOREVER
- Now that you have a Customer, the name of the game is to KEEP them as a Customer.
- What if you kept investing in your Customers, after they became Customers? What if you involved them in your product designs?
